Sosabowski and his own leadership capabilities during “Operation Market Garden” using key-witness accounts by British officers uniquely placed to be able judge the events as they unfolded. The film includes contributions by:

Brigade Major (Retd.) Tony Hibbert MBE, MC

— Interview filmed on location in Cornwall, 3 April 2012.

Sir Brian Urquhart KCMG, MBE

— Reflections on Arnhem, 5-8 August 2012.

Major General (Retd.) John Drewienkiewicz CB, CMG, MA

— Filmed on location at the Polish Institute and Sikorski Museum in London, 6 September, 2012.

To accompany the film is an illustrated twelve-page booklet Major General Sosabowski “Polski Bohater - Polish Hero

” by

Colonel Mike Russell,

Commander, Aldershot Garrison.

"...Sosabowski rose to his feet and spoke in English about the futility of what was being proposed. Dyrda recalls that his General said: 'For 8 days and nights not only Polish soldiers but the best sons of England are dying there in vain, for no effect'. There was an uncomfortable silence; again, not a word from Browning. Eventually, Horrocks said: 'This conference is over. The orders given by General Thomas are to be carried out.'..."
